

ACE Workshop – THE PRESERVATION OF KNOWLEDGE

Resource Networks

Zulip as a community resource and networking with boosters

Welcome to the new ACE Community Platform

A platform on which staff of ACE member institutions can meet to

- Start discussions on topics relevant to their field of work
- Exchange ideas with colleagues
- Ask for and give advice
- Let others know about things happening in their institutions or elsewhere that might be of relevance to others
- Plan joint initiatives
- And more...

- This platform is meant for ALL people working in ACE member institutions, so please encourage your teams to sign up and help to make the platform a lively and inclusive place for our whole community

- The ACE community platform was created on Zulip, a chat program similar to Slack (for those familiar with it)

How it work: Streams and Topics

- Group conversations happen in streams
- To increase findability of different topics under a stream: create topics
- Similar to subject lines in email correspondences, all contributions to a certain topic will be shown as a conversational thread.
- You can reply or add to a conversation under your topic in your own time. Everyone will see your reply in context.

What else can you do?

- Search for words across the Community platform or in certain streams in the search field at the top of the page
 - Send private messages to other ACE folks signed up to the Community platform
 - Tag people in conversations to get their input and to notify them if something concerns them directly
 - Attach files or videos to your posts
 - React to other people's messages with emojis
 - And much more
